

COST CONTAINMENT TAMES THE WILD

WANT TO GET THAT MONKEY OFF YOUR BACK? TAKE A PROACTIVE APPROACH TO MANAGING THE ENTIRE CLAIMS LIFECYCLE

Being proactive. It's about preparing and taking action before a claim spirals out of control. It's about accessing programs that address all the potential paths of a claim. It's about relying on a trusted partner that has statistically sound, clinically based tools and expertise to manage utilization as it happens. It's about looking forward, not backwards.

Being proactive. PMSI takes a proactive approach, using clinical, technology, informatics, and regulatory expertise. These capabilities drive all of the interventions that we apply and the programs that we develop. We are there for you before, during and after the claim. It's why many customers are choosing PMSI. Our knowledge and understanding of the workers' compensation industry gives us the platform to be more innovative than anyone else. Being proactive. It's what we do.

The complexities and costs of managing workers' compensation claims continue to increase. By partnering with PMSI, you gain the insight needed to make informed decisions and achieve consistent outcomes for your business. Believe us—you won't miss that monkey.

To learn more, view our video at www.pmsionline.com/expertinsights or scan the code.

For additional information call 877.ASK.PMSI.

